Must Protect Forest Resources

It Costs Annual Revenue In Tax To Be Perpetual

At what rate are Canada's forest resources being depleted? This question is asked and answered by a bulletin recently issued by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Institute. In its annual report, the pulp and paper industry has stated that the Canadian forest manufacturing activity in pulp and paper production, as measured by the value of its manufacturing output, has increased 10 per cent in the last five years. The value of its manufacturing output in 1957 was $1,100 million, compared with $1,000 million in 1952. The value of its manufacturing output in 1957 was $1,100 million, compared with $1,000 million in 1952.

The bulletin demonstrates that the forest industry has been able to maintain its production level while at the same time increasing its output. This is due to the fact that the forest industry has been able to maintain its production level while at the same time increasing its output. This is due to the fact that the forest industry has been able to maintain its production level while at the same time increasing its output. This is due to the fact that the forest industry has been able to maintain its production level while at the same time increasing its output.
